

Limpopo Day

Dear diary...

On the 31st of ~~November~~ ^{October} 2014 was a wonderful day for me because we were going on tour from Johannesburg to Polokwane. When the bus arrived I was very excited. I sat next to my classmate Zeidene, I was in front of Nhlanzeho and Jette, at the back of Sweetsy next to Vanessa and Sharita.

Our first stop was at Wimpy. Our special Mother (Principal) bought us a Wimpy breakfast and a nice coffee. When we had a kit kat chocolate and a fluffy blanket and a brown and turkey sheets.

When they told us to change ~~in~~ our costumes, I thought that the pool was small but it was enormous from what I thought it would like be. The dining room was big it had big sofas, a plasma TV, a tennis table and a pool table. When we went to the pavillion, I sat with my friends and we had a beerwors roll, and some healthy fruit juice. We were paid for to go to the movies it was so wonderful we watched a movie called Dolphin Tale 2 it was inspiring, because the people saved dolphins called Winter and hope they were both girls.
